The Opportunity

The City of Chico, CA is embarking on an exciting search for its next City Manager – a visionary leader ready to guide a vibrant, fast-growing community at the heart of the North State. Framed by tree-lined streets, a thriving downtown, and the natural beauty of Bidwell Park, Chico offers the unique opportunity to shape a city known for innovations, resilience, and high quality of life. The City is seeking a dynamic, collaborative, and forward-thinking executive who can champion community priorities, strengthen organizational excellence, and lead Chico into its next chapter of progress. For leaders who value impact, partnership, and possibilities, Chico is a place where your leadership can truly make a difference.

The City of Chico

The City of Chico, with a population of approximately 114,000, is the largest city in Butte County. Home to Bidwell Park, one of the largest municipally owned parks in the nation, Chico has many recreational opportunities in the area. With an average of 172 sunny days a year, Chico provides quick access to hiking, skiing, boating, hunting, and fishing. California State University - Chico continues to be a significant influence on the local community and is a key employer and contributor to the local economy. The city offers a learning community with a rich culture and a young spirit. Chico is known as a well-managed city that values quality infrastructure and services and maintains a special sense of community and small-town living as it has developed into a vibrant regional center for business, recreation, and cultural activities. Chico is a magnet for individuals seeking an environment where you can live and work while enjoying unparalleled access to outdoor recreation and the social spirit of an involved community.

Chico is located on the northeast edge of the Sacramento Valley, one of the richest agricultural areas in the world. The Sierra Nevada Mountains lie to the east, with Chico's city limits venturing several miles into the foothills. To the west, the bountiful Sacramento River lies five miles from the city limit. Chico provides ready access to large metropolitan areas like the San Francisco Bay Area and the Sacramento region. The Chico housing market is generally lower in cost than other cities of similar size, which makes it an affordable place to raise a family without compromising the factors important to a family. There is a strong school system, a well-regarded medical community, and a high level of public safety.

Chico's community spirit is seen in its downtown, which serves as a central gathering place for many community events such as farmers markets, Friday night concerts and parades. Historic downtown Chico is sprinkled with murals, art benches, and the award-winning City Plaza Park. One will find many locally owned businesses and restaurants, ranging from quick bites to fine dining that rivals any metro area. The City of Chico offers an extraordinary quality of life and is often characterized as having a special "sense of place."
